

Two High Schools (new Central and remodeled Centennial)

Academic Achievement

Possible Benefits

Possible Concerns

Curriculum	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CTE programs stronger • Updated technology • Improved collaboration with building design 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continued programming may not promote innovative ideas
Special Populations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • ESL at both schools • Increased accessibility

Climate for Students

Possible Benefits

Possible Concerns

Attendance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improved facilities may allow for innovative practices (21st Century technologies, video conferencing, Skype) to reach all students
Extra-curricular Participation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improved access to participation • Increased school spirit
Supervision of campus	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improved security
Belongingness/Alienation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improved collaboration 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Still a need for alternative education

Climate for Parents

Possible Benefits

Possible Concerns

• Able to maintain current traditions	• Possible redistricting
---------------------------------------	--------------------------

Climate for Faculty/Staff

Possible Benefits

Possible Concerns

• Appreciation for upgraded facilities
--	--

Cost Effectiveness

Possible Benefits

Possible Concerns

Operational/staffing/transportation	• Long term utilities savings
Capital Construction		• 1500 seat high school approximate cost 80 million. Remodeled Centennial approximate cost 40 million